

ETC New Insights Briefing - Member Communications Pack Overview

Credible Contributions: Bolder Plans for Higher Climate Ambition in the Next Round of NDCs

ETC's latest Insights Briefing, Credible Contributions: Bolder Plans for Higher Climate Ambition in the Next Round of NDCs, calls for industry and government collaboration to raise the ambition of the next round of Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) by COP30. To limit the impact of climate change, NDCs can and must reflect technical potential and reinforce existing progress by setting more ambitious targets with stronger links to national policies. The briefing highlights that higher ambition from government and industry is needed to stimulate accelerated deployment of clean energy technologies, but ambition alone will not deliver progress. The ETC recommends that "NDCs 3.0" define:

- clear and detailed roadmaps for implementation of accelerated climate action backed by strong government policy (e.g., quantitative targets for GW of renewables, phase out dates for bans on the sale of gasoline or diesel engine vehicles).
- measurable, comprehensive (covering all sectors and GHGs) and granular targets for emissions reductions.
- investable plans, especially in emerging markets, clearly stating the investment and international climate finance required to deliver stated targets.

In addition to the main Insights Briefing, the ETC will be producing additional communications assets including social media cards and infographics as part of our ongoing communications campaign.

Help us spread the word!

We are grateful for your support in disseminating the messages of this report. Below are the ways that you can help us spread the word:

- Share on social media with our social assets: Social Assets
- Include our key messages in your talking points for upcoming events and media briefings, see: Key Messages, FAQs and Press Release

Where can I find the report?

The full briefing and accompanying toolkit in English will go live on our website from 00:01 BST (London time) on Monday, 10th June and would be available via the link: <https://www.energy-transitions.org/publications/credible-contributions-bolder-plans-for-ndcs/>

Quick Access

There is one single link to access all key documents for outreach and engagement: ETC NDCs Briefing – Member Communications Pack

Our communications pack should contain all the information you require but, feel free to contact pmo@energy-transitions.org should you need anything further.